DAN ROWLES JOINS LAKE COUNTY ADAMHS SYSTEM

Dan Rowles has joined the Lake County Alcohol, Drug Addiction, and Mental Health Services (ADAMHS) Board team as their behavioral health project manager.

Established by Ohio Statute, The ADAMHS Board is responsible for planning, funding, evaluating, and monitoring services for Lake County residents who are dealing with mental illness and/or substance-use disorders.

Rowles is no stranger to the Lake ADAMHS system having been a part of it for 20 years serving as a case manager, dual counselor, group facilitator, care coordinator, and case management supervisor. Most recently he was Lake County's forensic monitor and behavioral health liaison. He was also heavily involved in the system's QRT (Quick Response Team) initiative.

Rowles' new position will see him working with the ADAMHS management team to identify possible service gaps, explore and secure funding to help deal with those issues, and follow through to make sure all the dots are connected properly.
